

Forum for Dental Student Research and Innovation for publication

I hope you are well and this school year is going well. We are requesting original research from dental students and their mentors to publish in Forum for Dental Student Research and Innovation for publication in 2014. I encourage you to consider submitting work to us for consideration. We would be happy to consider it.

I know you are already familiar with the publication after being part of the article I wrote on women researchers. But just a reminder: we are peer reviewed, and we publish for dental students and their mentors. The publication is digital and open access, with no fees to publish or access articles. We derive our funding from our supporters: Ivoclar, Colgate, and Dentsply.

To see the latest issue, please see <http://mydigimag.rrd.com/publication/?i=192510>.

Please be sure to subscribe. It's free, and it just lets you know when an issue is coming out: <http://www.fdsri.com/subscribe>

Our author guidelines are at: <http://www.fdsri.com/assets/pdf/author-guidelines.pdf>

Please feel free to share my email with students and faculty. We do have materials we can either email or mail to you. Please feel free to contact me with questions.

Kind regards,

Melissa Tennen

Senior Editor

Forum for Dental Student Research and Innovation

Aegis Communications

104 Pheasant Run, Suite 105

Newtown, PA 18940

USA

215-504-1275, ext. 228

www.fdsri.com

Like us on Facebook:

<http://www.facebook.com/FDSRI>